Senior Class History

The class of 1952 began its high school career as sixteen frightened freshmen, who found, to their surprise, that they lived through initiation. They soon overcame their shyness and fell into the routine to take their share of duties and honors under the leadership of class president, Marion Nixon.

Donna Krebs and Tootie Bailey were elected yell leaders and Marilyn Hurst became a sub-majorette in the drill team. Several members served on the paper and annual staffs and the girls joined the drill team. A one-act play, "The Little Red Schoolhouse", was given in the fall. It was a view into the schoolroom of yesterday and received a warm response. Their May Day float, "Mary, Mary, Quite Contrary", won first prize.

A few members were lost during the summer but most of the class regathered as sophomores. Donna and Tootie were again yell leaders and Marilyn, sub-majorette. Marilyn was also class president. "Glamorous Gloria", with Donna Krebs as Gloria, contributed to the success of the annual open house.

With money as the main objective, the class started a busy year as juniors. Janet West was elected president. Tootie was again yell leader and Donna, Marilyn, and Darlene became sub-majorettes. Marilyn was chosen assistant editor of the annual and Don Archer, assistant editor of the "Honker."

A carnival was given in November which brought in a good profit. Food sales and pop sales boosted the treasury. A three-act play, "Growing Pains", with Don and Janet as the center of the plot, was declared a hilarious success.

"April Showers" proved to be a beautiful banquet and prom. The ceiling of the gym was hung with long icicles. The walls were decorated with trellises and ivy. A huge rainbow of paper flowers circled the orchestra and ended in a pot of gold.

Baccalaureate and commencement found the juniors bidding the seniors goodbye.

By the time they became seniors, the class had dwindled to only ten. Don was elected student body president and also became editor of the "Honker." Donna and Janet became student body secretary and treasurer respectively. Darlene was elected main majorette with Marilyn and Donna as subs. Marilyn edited the annual and served as class president. Tootie was elected yell leader. In November she became Mrs. Dale Hadley and was replaced by Donna. Phil Hickey worked his way to captain of the football team and the other boys turned out for various sports.

Donna and Phil took leading parts in the operetta "The Governor's Daughter". Marilyn and Janet were the accompanists. The class presented a three-act comedy, "Star Crazy."

On May 3, 4, and 5, the class sneaked off on their skip day. The three days were fun for everyone. Mr. Brigham, class advisor, and his wife accompanied the seniors as chaperones.

The final events of the school days were baccalaureate, May 25, and commencement, May 29. The girls wore white caps and gowns and the boys were dressed in blue. Mr. Kip Taylor, head football coach at Oregon State College, delivered the address. After four jolly years of high school, the seniors separated to each make his own way.

Senior Class Prophecy

As I became so attached to the class of 1952, I decided to save my money so in later years I would be able to look them all up. The time has come.

As I go on my way, I find my first stop is Toppenish where I see Tootie on her way to the grocery store. What's this we see behind her, the boy scouts? No, its only her ten children.

I go on over to Blalock where the latest Olympic games are being held. There I find Arlington's football hero, Phil Hickey, who has just won the most spectacular contest in the history of the Olympic games. He has just been crowned tiddledy-wink champion of the year.

I continue on my journey to the thriving metropolis of Mikkalo, where I find Joe Potter, a successful farmer. According to Joe, the weather has been unfavorable and the wheat refuses to grow, but my, what a crop of weeds.

I stop off at Ciro's in Hollywood one afternoon and who should I see but Percy Rock, interviewing female talent for Ciro's latest bubble dance.

As I go on to Kentucky I see one lone person sitting forlornly in the grandstand at the Kentucky Derby waiting for her thoroughbred champion, Oakwood Gal to round the last bend. Lo and behold, it's my best Physics student, Donna Krebs.

Stopping off at New York, I happened to pick up the latest edition of the New York Times. The editor's name was Don Archer. Could this be the Don Archer I knew? I then noticed the news in it was six months old. I realized this was the Don Archer I knew, for no one else could be that late in getting out a paper.

As I go on to Greenwich Village, I dodge into a third-rate night club and find none other than Janet West, who after four years of college, has finally achieved her life long ambition as a torch singer.

As I was traveling on to Washington D.C., I turned on my radio to get the latest news and what should I hear but another familiar name. Marilyn Hurst, the famous English Channel swimmer who bested the world's record by twelve hours, is now attempting the first trans-Pacific swim. When last seen she was zooming by the coast of Australia.

On arrival in Washington, I noticed the town was in an uproar and all I could hear were crys of "Ila for President." On further investigation, I found this was Ila Mackey from the class of "52". I attended her campaign speech and the theme of her speech were those four familiar words, "I can't afford it."

While in Washington, I attended the Ice-Capades, where I find Darlene White, star of the show now for ten years, practicing the act she will do tonight. She has just accomplished the figure eight and is very proud of herself.

Exhausted by my travels, but glad that my favorite class is doing so well, I turn my car homeward to the peace and quiet of my sixteen children.

Senior Will

We, the class of 1952, being of both sound mind and body, do hereby bequeath the following.

First--To the faculty, we leave the remembrance of our good behavior.

Second--To the 1953 Seniors, we will our roll of gold tinfoil paper. They tried to steal it anyway.

Third--To the Sophomore Class, we will the pleasure of planning the Junior-Senior Prom and Banquet.

Fourth--To the Freshman Class, we will our ability to stay in class or they may not graduate as we are doing.

I, Janet West, will my steady date, Lee Macomber, to any nice girl who promises to take good care of him and get him in as early as I always did.

I, Don Archer, the brilliant, ambitious, editor of the school paper, will my position to anyone who thinks he can do as wonderful a job as I have done.

I, Ila Mackey, will my book on "How to Become Engaged" to Nancy Hodge.

I, Joe Potter, will my ability to get along with Miss Lloyd in English class to Barbara Logan.

I, Norma Hadley, will my last name to Sharon Bailey, who by the looks of things will acquire it soon.

I, Percy Rock, will my ability to flirt with girls to that good looking freshman who is well on his way, Johnny Hutson.

I, Marilyn Hurst, will my ability to get along with Dons to Nancy Marston, who has a good start.

I, Phil Hickey, will my place as football captain to that manly freshman, Paul Pruett.

I, Darlene, White, will my smallness and shyness to that amazon, Bernita Lloid.

Last---but not least, I, Donna Krebs, leave-------

The Class of 1952 makes this their last will and testament in the presence of the witnesses, who have subscribed their names hereto.

Student Council

The student council, headed by Student Body President Don Archer, and advised by Mr. Les Wright, had as its job this year, the appointment of several students to set up the constitution for the new school. The council is the head of student government.

Early in the year, the members of the student council went to Bend to attend the annual student council conference, and it was reported that a great deal was learned.

Council meetings were held every two weeks to take care of questions confronting the student body.

Junior Class History

The class of 1953 began their year's activities by electing the following officers: President, Merritt Mc Kay; Vice-President, Alan Carr; Secretary, Lovella Bailey; Treasurer, Shirley West; Sergeant-at-arms; Jim Bauman; and Representative, Stanley Rock.

On November 16, 1951, we presented an old time Minstrel Show. The show was very successful and a portion of it was used in an exchange assembly with Condon.

We were granted permission to all rights of concessions at athletic contests. This project was one of our ways of building up our treasury.

Our biggest project of the year was the Junior-Senior Prom and Banquet, held April 12. The music for the prom was furnished by a college combo from Eastern Oregon College. The banquet was held in the Pheasant Room of the Pheasant Grill.

The Junior class was well represented in athletics. The football team included five junior lettermen; Jim Bauman; Lee Macomber, Merritt Mc Kay, Rich Sherrell, and Alan Carr. Basketball season rolled around with Alan Carr, Merritt Mc Kay, Rich Sherrell, and Lee Macomber earning letters. Spring found the junior boys turning out for baseball with Lee Macomber, Rich Sherrell, Merritt Mc Kay and Alan Carr as probable lettermen.

The girls also took many honors with all of them participating in the drill team and Shirley West and Chloe Deen acting as majorettes. Lovella Bailey was elected yell leader and Lovella and Merritt were chosen assistant editor of the annual and paper respectively.

Sophomore Class History

The Sophomore Class again had the record of being the fastest growing class for 1951-52.

New students joining the class this year were Sarah Baker, from Morton, Washington; Carol Lemon, from St. Mary's in The Dalles; Romaine Wold, from Menomonie, Wisconsin; Bernita Lloid, from Pomeroy, Washington; and Ivy Skaggs, from Bickleton, Washington.

Serving as class officers this year were President ,Barbara Logan; Vice-President, Phyllis Seeley; Secretary, Sarah Baker; Treasurer, Sharon Bailey; Representative, Jack West; and Sergeant-at-arms, Bernita Lloid.

The sophomores were well represented in school activities. Karen Farley was on the yell squad. Working on the publication staffs were Barbara Logan and Jack West, serving on both the annual and paper staffs; Nancy Marston, annual staff; and Sharon Bailey and Karen Farley, paper staff. All of the girls participated in the drill team.

Musically speaking the sophomores did their part this past year. Sarah Baker and Enoch Hickey had two of the leading roles in the operetta, The Governor's Daughter, on March 14. In the school band were Nancy Marston, Sarah Baker, Bernita Lloid, and Barbara Logan.

The annual Christmas party, December 21, 1951, was sponsored by the sophomores, serving; noon luncheon for the entire student body.

Freshmen Class History

The class of 1955 began their freshmen year activities by electing the following students as their class officers: Jay Wheelhouse, President; Paul Pruitt, Vice-president; Nancy Hodge, Secretary; and John Hutson, Treasurer.

The first social function of the year was the Freshman Initiation, held on September 21, 1952 in the high school. The initiation ceremonies were limited to one day and one evening, with the other classes having a special duty to perform; the seniors were in charge of the actual initiation, the juniors, in charge of games, and the sophomores, in charge of the refreshments. After the initiation, the freshmen were welcomed as official members of the student body.

In the field of sports, the freshmen were certainly in for their share of glory. Football season found the freshmen turning out, and those making the squad were John Hutson, Dean Weatherford, Jim Sharpe, and Monte Rhinehart. Jay Wheelhouse acted as manager for the squad. Basketball season rolled around and the freshmen made up most of the B squad. John Hutson was the only freshman to rate a place on the regular A squad with Paul Pruitt, Dean Weatherford, Jay Wheelhouse, and Monte Rhinehart on the B squad.

The girls were members of the drill team and members of the chorus.

Socially, the Freshmen were responsible for the Heart Hop, on February 14. The climax of this affair was the election of a King of Hearts, with candidates from each class. Elected King was Jack West. The boys selected as candidates were Paul Pruitt, Jack West, Stanley Rock, and Phil Hickey.

Band

Under the leadership of music instructor, Mr. Jack Mahoney, the Arlington Band improved a great deal during the year, but was rather small, having only sixteen members.

One of the first appearances of the band was at the Basketball Jamboree, December 1, when the combined bands of Heppner, Fossil, and Arlington played during the games.

During basketball season, the band played at all of the home games, and added a great deal to the spirit of the event.

In the spring, several of the band members went to La Grande to the district music contest taking instrumental soloists, the saxophone quartet and a saxophone duet.

Officers for the year were: Donna Krebs, president; Don Archer, vice-president; Nancy Marston, secretary-treasurer; and Barbara Logan, librarian.

Sextet

The girls' sextet is composed of six members of the glee club, Barbara Logan, Janet West, Phyllis Seeley, Karen Farley, Chloe Deen, and Donna Krebs. The group is directed by Mr. Mahoney.

The girls sang at various events during the year, including P.T.A. meeting, the annual football banquet, and the Women's Club.

Girls and Boys Chorus

The mixed chorus was organized at the beginning of the year by Mr. Mahoney, and included all of the girls and a good representation of the boys.

The group sang for various service clubs during the year.

Perhaps the biggest undertaking of the year was the operetta, The Governor's Daughter, given on March 14.

The Governor's Daughter

The mixed chorus had as its major production of the year, the operetta, The Governor's Daughter, by Alfred Wakeman and Ira Wilson, given in the high school gymnasium March 14, 1952. The musical was directed by Mr. Jack Mahoney, music instructor in the high school.

The play opens on the night of the election of Mr. Horace Goodspeed, as the governor of the great state of Calibama. The governor's wife, Mrs. Goodspeed, is an ambitious woman who would like to take affairs of state into her own hands. It is she who directs the publicity, and who tries to dictate the policies of the new governor. Her ambition goes further. She wishes to marry her only daughter, Jane to Senator Snow, a wealthy old man who has political influence. In order to accomplish her ends, she plays upon the unselfish good nature of John Sumner, a struggling young author, Jane's fiance, and persuades him not to stand in Jane's way.

John is in a quandry. He has promised Mrs. Goodspeed to break his engagement to Jane, without disclosing the wily plan which Mrs. Goodspeed has forced upon him. The most difficult task is to give a plausible excuse for breaking his troth. He tells Governor Goodspeed that he loves Jane, but that he is too deeply in debt to marry. Governor Goodspeed then offers to liquidate the fictitious debt. John, driven to extremity, feigns insanity, and is so convincing in his role that he commands the situation and with sparkling comedy puts Mrs. Goodspeed and Senator Snow to a disadvantage.

Meanwhile, Mr. Octavo, of the Leverlung Publishing Co. arrives on the scene with a contract for the publication of John's book. When Mr. Octavo hears that John is mentally deranged, he seizes upon this fact as a choice bit of publicity and boosts the contract price of the book to $50,000. John signs the contract. Upon arrival of his Aunt Mary from Oshkosh, the hoax of his assumed insanity is disclosed. Mrs. Goodspeed impressed with John's importance as an author, is now anxious to make amends. John and Jane renew their troth, and the Senator is routed.

Leading singing roles for the operetta were taken by the following students:

Governor Goodspeed . . . . . Phil Hickey
Mrs. Goodspeed . . . . . Donna Krebs
Jane Goodspeed . . . . . Sarah Baker
John Sumner . . . . . Merritt McKay
Senator Snow . . . . . Enoch Hickey
Four Reporters . . . . . Paul Pruett, Rich Sherrell, Dale Curry, Jack West

Other roles were taken by Darlene White, as Marge; Lovella Bailey, as Dot; and Bernita Lloid, as Louise; Mr. Octavo was played by Ray Hoard, and Aunt Mary, by Phyllis Seeley. Accompanists for the operetta were Marilyn Hurst and Janet West.

Minstrel Show

The Junior Class presented their Ministrel Melodies on November 16, 1951, with the first production in the new gym.

The scene was that depicting those good days in the deep south when blackface shows were the fashion.

Merritt McKay acted as master of ceremonies for the occasion, with all the members of the junior class taking part. Four members of the sophomore class were "borrowed" for the affair.

It was somewhat surprising the amount of talent discovered in the cast. In a few short weeks, a fine dance band was organized and several outstanding vocalists were discovered.

Some of the outstanding numbers from the show included the following: Is It True What They Say About Dixie in the inimitable manner of Sherrell; Dry Bones, by the boys quartet, Jim Bauman, Lee Macomber, Alan Carr, and Rich Sherrell; I'm-a-tellin' ya, Sam, done only as Jack West could do it; In the Cool, Cool, Cool of the Evening, by Barbara (Frankie Laine) Logan; Sometimes I'm Happy, by Shirley West; Moonlight Bay, by Lovella Bailey and the chorus; Shine, by Stanley Rock; and Ballin' the Jack, by Shirley West, with Four Leaf Clover, as the finale number.

Plans were made for a portion of this to be presented in an exchange assembly with Condon.

Girls Physical Education

The physical education class for girls was organized into one large class, meeting on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Fridays.

In the fall, the classes were held outside, before the completion of the new gymnasium.

During the winter months, the Tuesday class was selected for drill team practice. Other class periods were devoted to badminton, volleyball, basketball, table-tennis and tumbling.

A softball team was organized in the spring, with other games of soccer and field hockey.

The class is advised by Miss Lloyd, physical education instructor.

Football

When football practice started early in September, about 20 young gridiron aspirants greeted the new Honker coach, Les Wright.

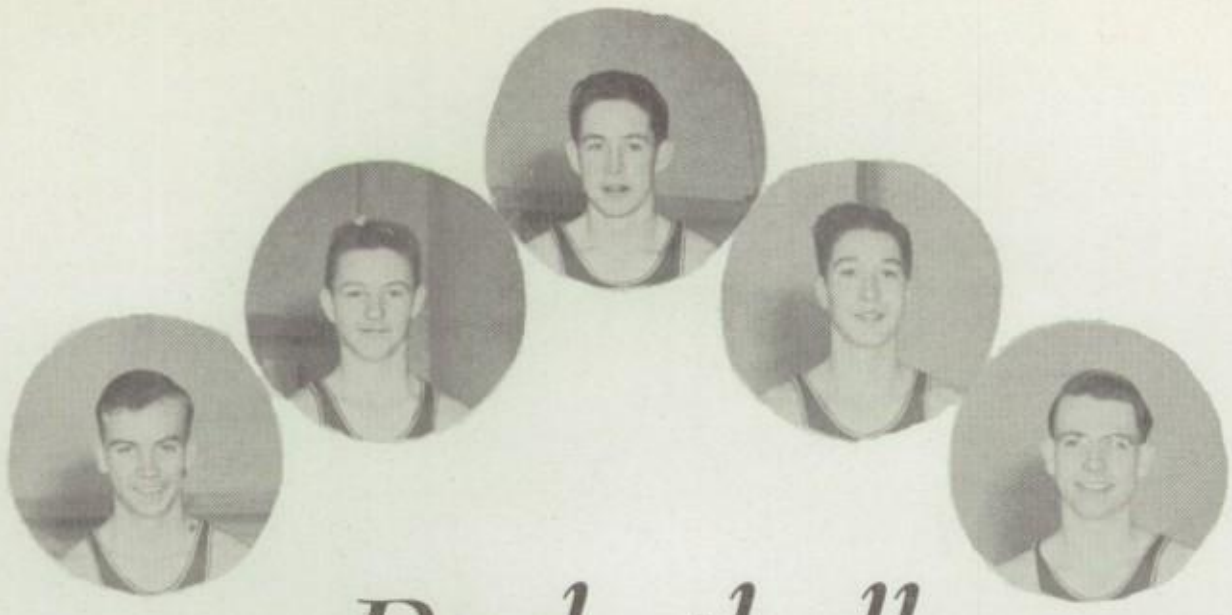
Working with inexperienced players, Coach Wright concentrated on the teaching of the fundamental elements of football, blocking, tackling, passing, and pass receiving. Along with the new coach, Arlington also began its first season in Six-Man Football.

The Honkers, starting off rather slowly showed progress and improvement throughout the season and the best performance was the second game against the traditional rivals of Condon High School, when the Honkers defeated the Blue Devils, 45–12.

The season schedule is as follows:

Arlington – 35	Glenwood – 42
Arlington – 12	Mitchell – 35
Arlington – 7	Wasco – 49
Arlington – 18	Boardman – 51
Arlington – 13	Spray – 19
Arlington – 13	Condon – 18
Arlington – 45	Condon – 12

Basketball



Basketball

Emphasizing a building year, Coach Les Wright's Honker maple court hoopsters this year compiled a record of four won and seventeen lost. In league play, the Honkers won one and lost five with their lone win over the Fossil Falcons.

Perhaps one of the most outstanding features of the basketball season was the District Jamboree which took place in the new gymnasium on December 1, 1951. Participating schools included the Condon Blue Devils, the Heppner Mustangs, the Fossil Falcons, and the Arlington Honkers.

The District 6-B Tournament, held in The Dalles, March 3, 4, 5, and 6. Arlington drew Fossil for the first game.

Built around returning lettermen and former B-squad players, the regulars included four juniors, Merritt McKay, Lee Macomber, Alan Carr and Rich Sherrell; and Jack West, the only sophomore on the squad. Other squad members were: seniors – Phil Hickey and Joe Potter; sophomores – Enoch Hickey and Harland Bilyeu; freshmen – Johnny Hutson. Team manager was Jim Sharpe.

The statistics below give the record of wins and losses.

Baseball

With a nucleus of four returning lettermen, Coach Les Wright was concerned with a building year this season. The squad counted on lettermen Rich Sherrell, Jack West, Darrell Harford, and Lee Macomber to carry the team through their season schedule.

The Honkers were included with Condon, Rufus, and St. Mary's of The Dalles in league play, due to the new sub-districts created by the re-zoning of various districts in the state. The winning team of each sub-district will meet on May 3, district playoffs, May 10, interdistrict playoffs, May 17, and the state championship B tournament at Drain on May 23 and 24.

The probable varsity line-up included the following squad members: Darrell Harford, Bud Weatherford, Phil Hickey, Catchers; Jack West, Enoch Hickey, Harland Bilyeu, First Base; Bud Wold, Lee Macomber, Second Base; Monte Rhinehart, Shortstop; Bud Weatherford and Jim Bauman, Third Base; Right Field, John Hutson and Joe Potter; Alan Carr and Jay Wheelhouse, Center Field; Don Archer and Percy Rock at Left Field; Rich Sherrell, Jack West, Enoch and Phil Hickey composed the Honker pitching staff. The squad was helped by the return of veteran catcher Darrell Harford, sidelined for football and basketball season, because of a broken leg suffered early in the gridiron season.

The 1952 diamond season for the Honkers included the following games:

March 28	Rufus at Arlington
April 4	Arlington at Condon
April 11	Rufus at Arlington
April 18	Fossil at Arlington
April 25	Arlington at Fossil
May 8	Sub-district playoff
May 10	District playoff
May 17	Interdistrict game
May 23–24	State B Championship tournament at Drain
